Presents
A Virtual Workshop
on GIS Based

StoryMaps

“MAPPING THE TALES: CARTOGRAPHY OF EXPERIENCES”

27th April, 2021

Tuesday, 6.30 pm (IST)

About the Workshop Theme:

Maps are integral part of the discipline of Geography. Various mapping techniques have been persistently developed throughout the evolution of the subject. Geographers map almost every spatial entity and phenomena around them through quantitative and qualitative techniques. Every place has a tale to tell emerging out of our experiences. The digital revolution in Geography enabled through GIS now equip us to map our stories based on our spatial involvements. In an attempt to represent these narratives, the Department of Geography, St. Xavier's College, Burdwan takes the initiative of organizing virtual training program cum workshop on Story Mapping. The main focus of the workshop is to learn the art of Story Mapping using a GIS software, ESRI Arc GIS. which enables the users can create, share and collaborate maps and store geographical data and information within a database. This makes visual representation of data simple and comprehensive through the myriad of features & tools it provides the users with. Users can interact with real time data and create their own exposition of the presented facts.
